As you find from above projection with actual figures, the trust has incurred 233.22 L more than projected amount which is 10% more than projection. The same is not for any additional Project but due to increase in costing for additional labour and difference in materials etc.

The trust has incurred 24.98 L more than projection for Advance given for expenses of company. This increase is just 0.86% which is quite nominal.

As we can see from above that Net profit is also less than projection of Rs. 45.30 L with % of 3.39% due increase in cost compared to income. To cater the need of Additional Capex and Additional expenses, the trust required additional funds leading to increase in Loan fund by 152.28.

Finance Committee of Karnavati University believes that the above difference from projections is under our observation and control. The same has not any adverse effect on function of the organization.
